MRS. LEWIS SPEAKS

Mrs. Howard A. Lewis Tells of Festival Plans—Moving Pictures Shown.

At the meeting of the Rosendale Township Association in Firemen's Hall Tuesday night, attended by approximately 200, Joseph O'Connor of Rosendale was elected president for the ensuing year, and when he was presented as the new executive, Walter Williams, retiring head of the organization, predicted a sparkling 12 months in the future for the association.

Referring to his record as one of the most prominent and active members of the association, Mr. Williams said he felt confident that Rosendale Township was bound for greater achievements with President O'Connor at the helm. He asked for full cooperation on the part of the members, and in his talk, President O'Connor said he felt sure the members would do their share in working on programs for the progress of the town.

Officers Elected

Officers elected last night were: President, Joseph O'Connor; vice president, Randolph Ziegler; secretary, William Wiesler; treasurer, Ralph Dewey.

Directors: Creek Locks, Edw. Deason; Whiteport, Randolph Oehri; Springtown, Walter Orman; Tilton, Paul Schiller; Maple Hill, Edward Brodsky; Bloomington, Charles Reddy; Blauwater, Walter Williams; Cottage Hill, Alfred Petri Belli; Rosendale, Joseph Hill, Henry Mollenhauer; LeFever Falls, Otto Lange; Bruceville, Abram Dunn; director at large, Dr. E. F. Galvin.

Grateful to Rosendale

As a guest speaker, Mrs. Howard A. Lewis, one of the principals in the Apple Blossom Festival movement, praised her audience with, "We have to thank Rosendale for showing what can be accomplished in Ulster county by cooperation and credit given to the workers arranging the apple blossom festival."

Mrs. Lewis briefly outlined part of the program, telling about May 6 as World's Fair day with a preview of the gigantic show in New York during 1939; May 7th as Governors Day when chief executives of states hereabouts are to be featured as speakers; May 8th as Church Day with special services and programs in the local churches.

Three Contest Judges

Three judges, Ed Strong of Ulster Park, Miss Idella Hyde and Frederick Snyder of Kingston picked the beauty contestants to be entered in the Apple Blossom Festival by Rosendale, choosing 16-year-old Madeline Tobachis in the high school division, and Miss Eleanor Adickes of Tilton, 15, as the entry in the non-high school class. Both girls were lustily applauded by the gathering.

Miss Jane Brown, 18, of Tilton, blonde entry of the Rosendale Grange, picked at a meeting of that organization last Monday night, was introduced, and also was applauded generously.

Dexter's Discussion

H. E. Dexter of the Poughkeepsie office of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation discussed the advantages of the Hudson Valley, especially the Ulster County, as a vacationland, ideal for metropolitan residents seeking the recreation offered by the various outdoor sports of hunting, fishing, hiking, and last but not least, skiing, for which Rosendale is becoming famous. He urged that a special committee be formed to plan recreational programs for vacationists, attractive ones that would make them want to return and advise their friends likewise.

Donald Hart, accompanying Mr. Dexter as a projection man, showed movies of the Hudson River vacationland and also of the Treadmill ski jump held in Rosendale last month.

President-elect O'Connor, urging increased membership in the township association, told of the advantages to the business group, the property owners and those renting properties.

Walkout Ends

It ended shortly before midnight last night when workers voted to accept a settlement offered by the company.

Ulster County Firemen Endorse Blossom Fete And New Alarm System

Parents Warned Of Scarlet Fever Epidemic in City

Since the first of the year 84 cases of scarlet fever have been reported in Kingston, the largest number of cases to be reported in a similar period in years in the city. Of the 84 cases reported, 53 were reported during January and so far this month 31 cases have been recorded.

With the outbreak of the disease among the children of the city, Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, today issued a warning to parents to keep their children away from large gatherings, such as movies, overcrowded stores, parties, and so forth, to prevent the child contracting the disease.

Dr. Sanford said today: "The occurrence of scarlet fever in Kingston, which was above the average during January, is still continuing. Up to the present time during February, 31 cases have been reported to the board of health."

In order to prevent further spread of this disease it is considered advisable to ask parents to keep their children more to themselves and away from large gatherings, such as movies, overcrowded stores, parties, etc. Scarlet fever is spread largely by close contact with some one else who has had the disease in a mild and perhaps unrecognized form.

The symptoms are as follows: Sore throat, fever, possibly vomiting and a fine scarlet rash or flush appearing first on the chest and extending downward.

If your child has any of the above symptoms and you have not had a doctor, please inform the health department so that an early diagnosis may be made. No matter how mild the symptoms may be, your child may become dangerously ill if care is neglected because of complications which may occur at any time during the course of the disease. Also remember that a mild case may transmit the disease to some other child who may become seriously ill or die as a result.

The school authorities, school nurses, public health nurses are doing all in their power to check the spread of scarlet fever in the city. Cooperation of parents with the health department is also necessary. Watch your children daily for any of the above signs and if they occur consult your doctor or inform the health department.

Child Labor Law Fails

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 16 (AP)—Proponents of ratification of the federal child labor amendment, unsuccessful for a fourth consecutive year, sought today to place the entire problem before New York's electorate in November.

Nathaniel M. Minkoff, leader of the Assembly's American Labor Party bloc, said his group would press for approval of Democratic Assemblyman Nicholas Rossi's resolution proposing that the voters decide whether the question should again come before the legislature.

Minkoff's statement came within a few hours of the defeat of the ratification proposal by a vote of 167 to 49 which cut sharply party lines.

The five American Laborites joined 29 Democrats and 15 Republicans in voting for ratification. Forty Democrats and 67 Republicans opposed it.

John St. Parking Lot Dangerous Says Man Asking $5,000 in Suit

Oscar Beach Sues County or City After Fall at Parking Grounds, Which He Says Have Been Neglected.

FRACTURED LEG

Says He Suffered Broken Leg and Other Injuries on January 10.

Alleging that the county of Ulster or the city of Kingston allowed a dangerous condition to exist at the John street parking grounds on January 10, 1938, Oscar Beach of Cottage Hill brought action against the county of Ulster to recover $5,000 for injuries which he suffered that day when he fell upon ice near the John street entrance to the parking grounds as he was leaving the park after parking his car.

In his complaint which has been filed in the county court at Ulster, Mr. Beach charges that at about 5:20 p. m. at January 10 he drove his car in the parking grounds which are maintained on the county property of the county house. He says as he was walking across the parking grounds, he slipped on ice and fell, breaking his leg.

Mr. Beach alleged in his complaint that the city or county neglected to maintain the grounds in a safe manner and that as a public parking space the owner of the property is liable for his doctor's bills, hospital bills, and for loss of wages. He alleged that the county or city allowed ice and snow to accumulate on the traveled portion of the parking grounds and that the condition was a dangerous one.

In his bill Mr. Beach suffered a fractured leg and other injuries for which he seeks to recover $5,000. Lloyd R. LeFever is attorney for the complainant.

Eden Intimates Britain's Attitude Toward Austria Would Be Neutral One

Foreign Secretary Hints at Policy to House of Commons Following Cabinet Meeting Which Considers Crisis.

EUROPE ANXIOUS

Tomorrow is 4th Anniversary of Tri-power Pact to Protect Austria.

London, Feb. 16 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden strongly intimated today that without Italian support for protection of Austria's independence Britain would adopt a hands-off policy.

The foreign secretary faced the House of Commons after a cabinet meeting which had considered the crisis arising from the sweeping governmental changes in Austria at behest of Reich-Chancellor Hitler.

Previously the British cabinet had considered Germany's new thrust toward absorption of Austria, but there was no indication it was planning any active steps to prevent such an outcome of the development in Vienna.

The foreign office was in frequent consultation with Paris, but the London press, while reflecting British concern over the fate of Austria and other Central European countries, also voiced a desire for a hands-off policy.

Preclude to Surrender

Austria's vital concessions to Reich-Chancellor Hitler in recognition of her status as a neutral state were widely interpreted here as a prelude to eventual surrender to German independence and a more active Nazi policy throughout all Central Europe.

The recent trend of European history was vividly illustrated by the fact tomorrow will be the fourth anniversary of the tri-power declaration by Britain, France and Italy on "the necessity of maintaining Austria's independence and integrity."

Since then, however, Italy has become friendly to Germany and today showed little interest in the new Austrian crisis.

No Repetition of 1931

As the British cabinet sought in Vienna there were no signs it was planning any such measures as were taken in 1931, when Britain, France and Italy, through the League of Nations, stopped short German moves toward Anschluss (union) with Austria.

Under discussion between London and Paris were possible effects of Austria's yielding on France's position in Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

Under discussion was a full clarification of Germany's intentions toward Austria, after Chancellor Schulerberg's reorganized Austrian cabinet with two ministers approved by German Foreigner Hitler—the result of talks last Saturday between Hitler and Schulerberg.

Can Do Nothing

The London Herald set forth typical British reaction in an editorial that "France and Britain can do nothing, except at the risk of unleashing European war."

"The days are past when they could impose their will from one end of the continent to the other."

Entering Wedge

There was wide interpretation among French political circles that the entrance into the Austrian government of Nazi influence, after the unsuccessful push of 1934 in which Chancellor Dollfuss was assassinated, provided an entering wedge for achievement of Germany's long hoped for Anschluss, or union, with Austria.

French were expressed in some French circles that Germany might turn now to France's military ally Czechoslovakia, with a similar demand for Nazi representation in the Czech government.

Some British quarters debated whether Britain and France, alarmed by such possibilities, were speeding rearmament to offset apparent German efforts to gain an European balance of power with Fascist alliances.

6 Planes on Flight

Miami, Fla., Feb. 16 (AP)—Six of the army's mightiest warplanes from Langley Field, Va., were poised today for a non-stop flight to Buenos Aires for the inauguration Monday of President Roberto M. Ortiz of Argentina. They are scheduled to take off at midnight.

Heavier by 10 pounds than when he entered a Memphis hospital after physical collapse, he died at 22-day-old, the Rev. Israel Harding Nov. 15, born leaving for Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for further treatment.

Two Under Construction

Two of the ships under construction are 35,000-ton battle ships. There have been reports the United States may join other powers in building even larger ones, following Japan's refusal to state whether she has such plans.

President Roosevelt contributed to the discussion of naval strength yesterday, commenting at his press conference that expert opinion advises possession of a navy able to protect both Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Mr. Roosevelt said experts contended there always was a possibility that the navy might be called on to defend both coasts at the same time.

He did not say he advocated construction of such a fleet, which would go far beyond and pending recommendation.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House naval committee said it might be possible for the house to begin debate Wednesday on the $500,000,000 program. He strove to wind up public hearings which the committee has been holding for three weeks.

Washington, Feb. 16 (AP)—The Washington Post said today it had been informed that Al Capone, Chicago racketeer now in Alcatraz prison, had been examined by a psychiatrist and adjudged to be sane. Capone had been under observation for insanity. The Post said the psychiatrist's report had been received by James V. Brennan, director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, and would be made public later. Bennett, it added, declined to comment.

San Francisco, Mrs. Edw. Twitcheell and Julian Wilfong, psychiatrists who examined Capone, also refused to discuss their findings.

Extension Granted To Insurance Law

Albany, Feb. 15.—Employers who are contributing under the New York Unemployment Insurance Law have been given a 15-day extension of time in which to make contributions for the month of January. This announcement was made today following instructions given by Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews to Paul Sifton, Deputy Industrial Commissioner and Administrator of the Division of Placement and Unemployment Insurance.

Contributions for each month are due the 15th of the following month, but because of the recent amendment to the law, Commissioner Andrews decided that January payments might be postponed until March 1 so that employers would have the opportunity to familiarize themselves with the change in reporting requirements.

The amendment provides for the extension of coverage to all employees, regardless of earnings, up to the first $3,000 of annual wages paid. Prior to the passage of the amendment only employees whose earnings were $3,000 or less were insured.

For most employers with personnel on their payrolls who earned more than $3,000 annually, this means only a change in reporting requirements, said Commissioner Andrews. These employers are now included under the law, and employers must report them and pay contributions on their wages, up to and including the first $3,000. However, employers who are paying taxes to the Federal government under Title IX of the Social Security Act may deduct from their Federal taxes the amount of contributions paid to the state up to 90 percent of their Federal taxes. If the payments to us should total more than 90 percent of the Federal tax, our law, as amended, provides for a refund of the excess.

Mr. Sifton stated that there has been no change in the form on which contributions are to be made, the form U-1-C is still to be used. He emphasized the fact that the time extension granted by the Commissioner is for January contributions only.

Industrial Home Annual Reports Are Submitted

The annual reports of the Industrial Home are as follows:

To the Board of Managers and Board of Trustees of the Industrial Home the following report is submitted.

Once more the Managers of the Industrial Home approach the New Year with hearts full of thankfulness for all kindnesses shown during the year 1937. We extend our thanks to the staff of physicians, dentists, specialists, optometrists and to the city nurse who have given their services so willingly.

No serious illness has occurred among the children the past year—minor ailments, however, have called for many visits from the medical staff and we are very grateful for the time and care given the children.

We thank the Kingston Shriner's Association and their friends for the generous check from the "Ball" which is given each year for the benefit of the "Home."

We appreciate the cooperation of the Kingston and Benedictine Hospitals. To extend our personal appreciation to every individual who has helped to make 1937 such a successful year. We thank the merchants, the press, schools, churches, Sunday Schools, lodges, clubs and all other organizations for their generous support.

Again we thank the Binnewater Ice Co., who furnish all our ice free of charge.

We especially thank the many kind friends throughout the city and county who contributed canned fruit and vegetables, also fresh fruit and vegetables. To Chief Murphy and the firemen we extend our thanks for filling five extinguishers and watching over all the buildings.

We thank the policemen for all their kindnesses to the children. Through the courtesy of the Kingston Daily Freeman the donations to the "Home" are printed each month.

To Mrs. Dickinson, our superintendent and the entire "Home Staff" we extend our appreciation for their kindness and care of the children.

We thank the Rotary Club for their interest in the "Home" and for the fireworks for July 4th and Christmas presents.

The boys and girls have derived much pleasure and benefit from the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. We appreciate what these organizations have done for the "Home."

The T. T. T. Class of the St. James Church have taken much interest in the children. For the past few years they have given them a supper picnic in the backyard of the "Home" besides sending donations from time to time.

The boys and girls spend much time in the summer working in gardens on the property. They raise some vegetables and the "Home" is supplied with their flowers all summer.

In June four boys and four girls received a letter K for having over 90 per cent in their examinations. Three boys and one girl received books for being neither tardy nor absent for the year.

One of the boys was at Camp Happyland for a month this summer from which he derived great benefit—another boy was at the Y. M. C. A. camp.

On August 25th Chief Murphy and the paid firemen, assisted by their wives, took the children, matrons and managers to North Lake, in the Catskill Mountains, for their annual picnic. Before leaving the "Home" the children were given fireman hats and all had their pictures taken. On arriving at the lake a bountiful luncheon was served and then the children enjoyed themselves following the many trails through the woods. It was a perfect day and one that the children look forward to all year. Words can never express the appreciation of the managers to these kind and ever thoughtful friends.

Thanksgiving Day is always a happy one. Friends furnish titles, said upon seeing the pictures that they were extremely interesting and most unusual. The complete story in pictures in an early issue of Life Magazine, showing the struggle under water, and the final outcome will appear in the magazine and cannot be reproduced here.

The day after Christmas Miss Marjorie Miller of this city and Glenerie Park accompanied her husband, Walter Nase, to Florida on an alligator hunt. The hunt was held on the Oklawaha River near Silver Springs, famous throughout the United States for the clearness of its water and the glass bottom boats where one may travel over miles of waterways and behold through the bottom of the boat the marvels this section of Florida offers. One may see any number of varieties of fish, such as, large black bass, bream, mullet, perch, huge cat fish measuring four and five feet in length, turtles weighing one hundred pounds and more and most interesting of all alligators from babies six to eight inches long to eleven and twelve footers.

Ros. Allen, director of the Florida Reptile Institute, invited our two townspeople on this hunt, which was to be strictly photographic as Nase is a freelance magazine photographer who travels around photographing unusual stories with his camera.

Night 'Gator Hunt

Allen took them on this hunt to tell a story in pictures that had never been told before; the capture at night of a full grown alligator alive, single handed and with nothing but a flashlight strapped to the forehead of the human hunter. They selected a dark night for the hunt, and when a 'gator was sighted by the aid of the flashlight Allen dived into the water and tackled him. Cameraman Nase and his assistant, who in this case was his wife, followed in a boat especially constructed for the purpose by Ray and Davidson of Silver Springs. The boat, or more properly speaking, the photo-sub has an underwater tank that contains three glass windows from which observations or photographs may be made. The picture takers climbed into the tank, the cover was then fastened down and they were alone on the bottom of the Oklawaha river, separated from the water by a half inch of glass. Miss Miller assisted her husband in handling the flashlight equipment in making the pictures which resulted in a photographic story of an underwater fight at night between an unarmed man and a seven and one half foot alligator the like of which has never before been recorded in pictures. Raymond Ditmars, curator of mammals and reptiles of the New York Zoological Society, and the world's foremost authority on reptiles, said upon seeing the pictures that they were extremely interesting and most unusual.

Elephants Battle

He had this to say of an experience he had a few years ago in Florida while filming an RKO picture featuring Ann Harding and called "Frenzied."

"We got a number of bull elephants from the winter quarters of Ringling Bros. circus at Sarasota and took them out in the everglades to film part of the picture the plot of which was laid in Africa. We set up our cameras on tripods and started to shoot in water up to our waists. Everything went nicely for awhile, suddenly one of the large bulls decided to settle an old grudge he held against another bull, he lowered his head and lunging forward rammed his enemy, who was knocked completely off his feet; the attacked bull scrambled to his feet and the fight was on, but lan broke loose, all the elephants started trumpeting and began milling around the fighting bull.

The bull men dashed in and tried to stop the fight but the elephants paid absolutely no attention to them. All at once the maddened bull which had been attacked first broke away and started towards us with the other bull in hot pursuit and the rest of the herd following close behind. The fleeing bull in his evident terror of the other apparently did not see us as he headed in our direction. It was impossible for us to run as the mud and water made it difficult to even walk. Well for a few seconds it looked as though we were in a tough spot, but fortunately the leading bull saw us and swerved to one side just in time to prevent us from being trampled upon; the pursuing bull and the rest of the herd seeing the first bull swerve, also swerved and went thundering past less than six feet from us. That ended our picture taking for the day as our cameras were covered with mud from the splashing elephants; and also we had nothing to photograph as it took the bull men the rest of the day to round up the herd."

Committee on Old Houses Plans for Blossom Festival

Suitable posters, an illustrated brochure of the historic old houses of Ulster county, and possible methods of directing visitors to the various points of historic interest, were the chief topics discussed at a meeting of the Old House Committee of the Ulster County Apple Blossom Festival held Tuesday afternoon at the Farm Bureau lecture room.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. W. A. Warren with Mrs. Everett Fowler as secretary. Six members were present.

Posters and Booklet

Gerard Betz submitted an illustrated poster which was colored in red and green, bordered partly by apple blossoms, had for the center of attraction a fine picture of the old Senate House, and displayed below this an open book upon which was drawn a map of the city on one page and the other left blank for a listing of the houses still standing within Kingston. Mr. Betz offered to supply the committee with a few of these posters if the idea was accepted.

Myron S. Teller gave a report on the cost of an illustrated booklet or brochure which would contain pictures of many of the old houses of Ulster county and would also have a map of Ulster county which would aid visitors to locate the various houses. He also displayed several maps of the city which might be revised and used for the booklet.

The posters were to be displayed at the various information booths, which will be placed throughout the city and county, while the brochures would be sold for a nominal sum at these booths and also by "hawkers" and the various stores.

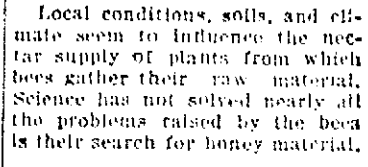

Question of Finances

The various ideas submitted by

Mr. Betz and Mr. Teller met with the approval of the committee but the matter of finances caused a halt in the proceedings, and it was finally decided that Mrs. Warren and Mr. Teller should meet with the finance committee of the festival in order to learn definitely what plans would be acceptable for the financing of such projects.

The two members delegated to meet with the finance committee were to do so as soon as possible and then another meeting of the house committee would be called to take definite action on the various plans.

'Heartless House' Cast Announced

Strayfair Barbara Doll
Cantwright Gladys Kloebe

The story is centered around the Bohemian atmosphere of "The New Era Society," which is made up of a group of professional women who have resolved to spend their lives independent of men. At the time of presentation, the financial situation has become most embarrassing. A solution to the money problem presents itself in the form of a magazine article, which ridicules them, calls them "Old Maids" and names them "Heartless House," thus providing ample cause for a scandal suit. Complications set in, when two maiden ladies, no longer in their teens, appear.

"Heartless House" will be accompanied throughout by Mrs. Thomas J. Anderson at the piano. The Ford-Parish orchestra will provide music during the intermissions. Refreshments may be procured at the end of the presentation.

Davenport Talks To Men's Clubs

John Davenport of Accord was the principal speaker at the supper meeting of the Men's Club of the Rondout Presbyterian Church held in the chapel on Tuesday evening. The Men's Club of the Wurts Street Baptist Church was the guest of the Presbyterian club. The Baptist delegation was headed by the Rev. Clarence E. Brown, pastor of the church.

The supper committee had arranged a substantial menu of corn beef and cabbage with ice cream and cake for dessert, and the men did justice to the food that had been prepared.

Mr. Davenport, who recently made a lengthy trip through Canada and points north, gave a most interesting talk on his trip and showed a number of movies he had taken of points of interest on his travels. He held the close attention of his audience and was extended a rising vote of thanks for his fine talk and interesting movies.

Following the speaking program dart baseball was played.

Miller Awarded $327.50 Verdict In County Court

Affirming the decision of the city court, Morris Miller, of this city, was awarded a verdict of $327.50 this morning in county court in an appeal taken before County Judge Frederick G. Traver, in an action brought against William Jacobellis and Chester Winne. Tried before Judge Culliton in city court Miller was awarded damages which resulted when his truck collided with an ice truck of the defendant, Jacobellis, and driven by Winne on May 7, 1936. From the judgment of the city court Jacobellis took an appeal to the county court.

It was charged that the Jacobellis truck was parked on Broadway near East Chester street on the early morning and that during a fog and rain storm the plaintiff's truck struck it. Plaintiff alleged that the ice truck was parked three or four feet from the curb with the light out.

Elmer H. Nathan appeared for the plaintiff and Francis T. Murray for the defendant-appellant. The verdict for plaintiff was an eleven to one verdict, one of the jurors holding out for no cause of action. When the jury was polled, Lillian Gorley voted no cause of action. Under a recent revision of the law eleven jurors may return a verdict, the unanimous approval of the twelve jurors no longer being required. Court recessed until 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

The day calendar for that time is Nos. 34, 44, 48, 59 and 25.

FARM BUREAU PLANS FEED PRODUCTION CLASS

A complete 2-day dairy feed production school has been planned by the Farm Bureau dairy committee for Wednesday and Thursday, February 23 and 24. It will take place at the New Paltz Grange Hall. The sessions will start at 10 a. m. each day and close at 5:30 p. m. The committee invites all dairymen to attend. According to Albert Kurdt, county agricultural agent, the quality and yields of home-grown feed crops may make the difference between breaking even and losing money on a dairy farm. Roughage is the basis around which any feeding program should be built according to Mr. Kurdt. The following is a complete program of the two-day school:

Wednesday, February 23
10—Registration and opening of school.
10:15—Buying and selecting fertilizers.
11—Lime, its selection and use.
1—Fertilizing crop rotations.
2—Pasture improvement and management.

Thursday, February 24
10—Silage crops and making good silage.
11—Seed-bed preparation and seeding for 1935.
1—Production of high quality hay.
2—Feed grain production.

Two Cornell instructors will conduct the school. They are Prof. E. Van Alstine and Prof. George H. Serviss, both of the Agronomy Department at Cornell.

Kerhonkson High Five Victorious

Kerhonkson High School, pace setters in the NUSO League and Woodridge High School, contender for the first place position in the Catskill Mountain League met on the former's court Friday evening with Kerhonkson emerging the winner 23-20.

Despite the absence of their ace, P. Blumberg, the visitors kept the issue in doubt until the final whistle. Ejection of N. Ruderman via the personal foul route further weakened them but I. Krieger kept them in the running by his sensational shooting.

During the course of the game, the lead changed hands five times. At quarter time Woodridge led 6-1 and at half time 10-9. Kerhonkson pulled ahead during the third quarter and led at its finish 15-12. Woodridge again led for part of the final period but timely baskets by Captain Lawrence, Billy Decker and Dave Rothenberg clinched the game for the Kerhonksonites.

Statistics of the game show that Kerhonkson was sadly below form making only nine out of 41 tries from the field and sinking only five of its 17 free throw attempts. Woodridge sunk nine field markers in 24 heaves but was only able to convert two out of eight free throws.

The result of the game left Kerhonkson with a winning streak of six straight and seven wins in nine games. The loss was Woodridge's fourth in 14 starts this season.

Coach G. Warren Kias' Maroon and White hoopers chalked up their seventh consecutive win at Middletown Tuesday in the battle for annexation of the DUSO crown. The final score was 44 to 35. This victory enabled the locals to slip into undisputed possession of first place by a margin of 13 points over the idle Liberty team.

With Charlie Bock bottled up the continuous close checking of the Middies, Jesse Shultis took high scoring honors by gleaming 15 markers. Ray Dodd and Bob Quackenbush were high for the losers with 10 apiece.

Paul Argulewicz swished the net with a neat set shot from the slide. George Silverberg, the other Kingston guard, broke through to put it 1 to 2 on a lay-up. Shultis scored a field and a foul but Larry Latour came back with another layup pushing the score to 7-4. Charlie Bock raised up the court and rifled his initial goal followed by Shultis' layup. With about a minute to go Ray Dodd entered the scoring ledger with a pushup but Jesse Shultis retaliated with a device to make the score 15 to 6 as the first quarter closed.

Taking a rebound Tommy Maines got his first two points. Dodd and Quackenbush pushed in neat dunks to advance the score to 15-10. Kingston took another jump as Silverberg notched his second field goal from close range.

After a set scrimmage around the Maroon hoop, Dodd finally slipped the calf-kick in the twine making it 16-12. Pressing standards Middletown seemed to have break when Jesse Shultis rammed into the wall in back of the Middle net and was kayoed. However, he resumed play. Bock rolled two fields into the net followed by Argulewicz. Quackenbush's foul sliced a point off the Kingston total to make it 22-12. Just before the whistle sounded Fred Spelcer cut the cords with a breakaway attempt and then nestled a pretty layup. The score at the end of the half was 22-15.

Middies Start Moving
An aggressive bunch of Middle basketweavers opened the third session on Latour's follow up. Spelcer broke through the wide open defense of Kingston for another two points making it 22 to 19. Shultis halted the uprising with his toss. Quackenbush's singleton and Dodd's field scrapped Kingston's lead to 22-22 but this was the end for the Middies as Silverberg added three more to his total on a set and charity toss. Before the Middies hit the scoring column again Shultis, Bock and Maines ripped in set shots to make it 32 to 22. As the period closed Bobby Duffus got his first point from the brief score.

Closing in on the Middletown offensive thrusts Kingston started the final session by blocking all attempts to invade the Maroon sector. Maines made the first score. A long shot by Duffus made it 34-25. Quackenbush pushed in another duo of markers for the home team but fouls by Maines and Shultis kept Kingston's lead safe despite Dodd's break for a layup. Realizing that they had just about taken over the first place post by a few points, Kingston continued to play good ball handling and passing. Silverberg registered the Maroon's 38th point on his layup but Quackenbush nestled his toss into the hoop boosting the Middies' score to 33.

Jess Shultis slipped in two consecutive fields. Although Latour and Quackenbush registered 10 points for the Middies the game was safely tucked away. Tommy Maines cleaned the final points of the game on his follow of a rebound.

Rev. Gates Gets Important Post

The Rev. Goodwin Gates, formerly Presbyterian pastor here, has been appointed a special executive secretary of the Connecticut Federation of Churches, a reported in the International Journal of Religion, Education and Culture.

The Connecticut Federation is formed by the association of 200 churches of all major denominations. Its office was recently enlarged following merger with the former County Council of Religious Education which served the Sunday Schools of Connecticut and its county.

The activities of these united organizations take in community welfare, interchurch program, missions, week-day schools of religion for public school pupils, vacation church school and the establishment of a permanent church in downtown Connecticut and in growing suburbs.

Dr. Gates is a director of the Department of Religious Education in the Federation, whose staff of 30 conducts the week-day schools and vacation schools. The former have an enrollment of more than 8,000 the second largest in the nation for religious instruction on public school time. The Vacation Schools enroll another several hundred pupils.

Because of his position in the Federation, this former Kingston pastor becomes an advisory member of the International Council of Religious Education. The annual meeting of the latter organization, in session last week in Chicago, elected him secretary of the city executives' division, a reported by the International Journal.

Sunday mornings for the next several months Dr. Gates will also serve as stated preacher of one of the Presbyterian churches in Connecticut.

While pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in this city, and before that, when he was minister of a church in New York City, Dr. Gates was active in interchurch programs and among leaders of religious education and young people. For two years he was dean of the Ulster County Youth Congress and a member of the Board of Administration in the Leadership Training School held each year.

Several Income Tax Claims Paid

Tuesday, February 15, was the first day on which Federal income tax payments were being received at the local office of the deputy collectors in the Ulster County courthouse. Several early returns were filed. During the month from February 15 until and including March 15 there will be deputy collectors in attendance at the "convenience" rooms in the courthouse to give assistance to taxpayers.

During this period Deputy Collectors Holt N. Winfield and Max Kaplan will be at their office to assist those filing returns. This service which the Federal men give will be without charge. Early filing of returns will assist the collectors and will also avoid congestion and delay to the taxpayer.

A Diamond Egg
Peru, Ind., Feb. 16 (AP)—The goose that laid the golden egg has nothing on the hen that laid the egg Mrs. M. C. Parthal broke for her husband's breakfast. Out rolled a pet-sized stone that glittered like a diamond. She said she'd have a jeweler look at it to determine if it was genuine or paste.

HIGHLAND NEWS

P-T. A. Founders Day Observed

Highland, Feb. 15.—A splendid address upon Abraham Lincoln was given by George F. DuBois Monday evening before the meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. Mr. DuBois spoke in the belief that Lincoln had a philosophy of which we should be acquainted. The subject was, "A Partisan Without Bitterness."

Beginning with the birth of Lincoln he dwelt upon the humble start in life and mentioned leaders of men from Bible times down to modern times. He pointed out the home, food, clothing, work and that while they all compared favorably with the neighbors of the Lincoln family, yet this one man had the outstanding qualities for success.

He recalled the reading, the debates, the orations and declared that Lincoln was the one man of whom people never grew tired of hearing and of reading about.

Mr. DuBois was introduced by Mrs. D. S. Haynes, chairman of the evening's program.

Founders' Day was observed with the four lighted candles placed upon the platform. These signified: Yellow, for the home; blue, the community; white, the church; red, the school. In the center stood the birthday cake, carrying time lighted candles standing for the presidents that have presided over the local organization; Mrs. Irving (Roby), Miss Mildred McCarthy, now Mrs. Howard Walker of Wappingers Falls, Mrs. James Swift, Mrs. Bradford Fier, Mrs. Philip Wilklow, Mrs. Gladys Meers, Mrs. Gay Brodt, Mrs. D. S. Haynes and the present leader, Miss Ruth Goldsmith.

Mrs. Haynes read the cardinal values that P-T. A. stand for: To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community. To raise the standards of home life. To secure laws for the care and protection of children and youth. To bring into closer relation the home and school. To develop better educated and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

The debating team of the high school, whose season opens soon, gave their debate upon the subject, "Shall New York State Adopt a System of Unicameral Legislation?" The affirmative side was taken by Rose Castano, Barbara Leat, Phibmon Terwilliger. The negative: Richard McCarthy, Harold Vandervoort, Richard Haynes. Miss Ruth Haynes was the announcer. This was in the nature of a practice debate and no judges or decisions rendered.

The songs, "America the Beautiful" and "Patriotism United" were sung, with Miss Jane Reynolds accompanist.

Miss Goldsmith, presiding over the business meeting, called for the treasurer's report from Miss Martha Bonest. There was $16.91 in the treasury last month and $23 received. Transportation for the speaker of last month amounting to $5 had been paid, leaving a balance of $31.91. Out of this a bill amounting to $1.78 for sten-

Kerhonkson Union School Activities

Although the Kerhonkson Union School has no art department and no regular art teacher, the school is fortunate in having Miss Madeline Sniffen as advisor of the Art Club, a group of pupils who meet once a week during the activity period on Tuesdays. This is the second year of the club's existence and the membership at the present time is over 25. To date members have engaged in the following: Drawing with pastels, decorating O. P. Craft units, decorating paper plates, weaving crepe paper baskets, plates illustrating how colors are mixed to obtain tints, tones, and shades and soap carving. They plan sometime in the future to do some work in clay modeling and finger painting. At the present time some of the members of the club are doing Indian drawings for the year book. Miss Vivian White, advisor of the year book, has asked the Art Club to help make the publication a success by working out an Indian theme in pictures. This is especially appropriate since Kerhonkson offers a fine setting for Indian lore of almost every description.

The assembly program in the high school auditorium Friday, February 18, at 3:05 will be in charge of Robert Kelder. He plans to present a Professor Quiz Program, in which all the pupils of the high school will take part. This will prove very interesting as well as instructive. Parents of the boys and girls are welcome. Warren Lawrence, president of the School Association, has announced that the association will again present a circus in the high school auditorium Friday, April 8. Plans are under way to make this performance one of the outstanding events of the year. The circus will not be a repetition of last year's performance, but will include many new, varied and dazzling exhibitions "never before performed before the human eyes." The money realized from this activity will go into the student fund. This is one of the ways by which the student association finances the social growth activities. At the present time, there are 18 different activities being carried on and most of these receive support from the student budget.

The Student Aid allotment for the Kerhonkson Union School has been increased to $36 per month, according to a communication received from Robert Hill, who is in charge of the Albany Office for Student Aid. This enables students who are lacking in financial means to continue their school work. At the present time, there are six students employed in the school. Their duties include some clerical, but mostly janitorial work.

Albany, Feb. 16 (Special)—More than a score of women, members of the Ulster County Women's Republican Club, were in Albany Tuesday to attend the extended debate in the Assembly chamber, at the Capitol, on the child labor ratification amendment.

The women, headed by Miss Margaret Quick of High Falls, president of the club, had luncheon at the Ten Eyck Hotel, before leaving Albany for home again. It had been previously planned that Assemblyman J. Edward Conway and Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston would attend the luncheon meeting of the club, but because of the fact that Senator Wicks was temporary presiding officer in the Senate, and Assemblyman Conway was kept in the Assembly chamber for the vote on child labor legislation, the two Ulster county legislators could not attend.

In addition to listening to the lengthy debate on ratification of the child labor amendment, the club women also attended part of the Senate's session on Tuesday.

Installation Service
A combined installation service for the Rev. George Berens, who is to serve the Ulster Park and Port Ewen Reformed churches, will be held at the church in Port Ewen Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A reception will be held in the church hall following the installation. Members and friends of both congregations are invited.

'Dunk,' Pals Say, 'Was Regular Guy'

Callipolis, O., Feb. 16 (AP)—The carefree days when "Dunk" McIntyre swung from a home-made trapeze in McCormick's lively stable were recalled today by mourning intimates of Columbian Oskar Odd McIntyre.

"Dunk was a regular guy," was Barker Harry Maddy's description of the noted writer of Broadway highlights whose body was to be brought back today to his adopted home.

But a little 53-year-old woman, known to thousands of McIntyre's "New York Day by Day" readers as "Aunt Emma," expressed a motherly belief that had he been more carefree in later years, his heart would not have failed him in New York last Monday, five days before his 54th birthday.

Mrs. Emma Kerns, an aunt of Mrs. McIntyre, inclined toward the opinion that a clock-like punctuality that governed the daily life of McIntyre hastened his death by several years.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

COTTEKILL

Cottekill, Feb. 16.—On February 21 at 7:45 o'clock in the Cottekill School gym the pupils will present their "Minstrel Crash of 1938". A nominal charge will be made. May Control Transportation

Washington, Feb. 16 (AP)—Reports circulated in Congress today that the administration was considering establishment of a federal transportation board, which would have broad powers over all forms of transportation. Conflicting regulations over railroads, water commerce, airplanes and highway transportation were said to have convinced leaders a need exists for a coordinating and advisory agency.
